Communication

Team Communication Approach

The team coordinated project tasks through the shared project dashboard and Kanban board, with epics and stories tracked across all five development phases. Given the team lead was unavailable during the later stages, remaining tasks (application deployment, GitHub setup, and documentation) were completed independently to ensure timely submission.

Documentation of Progress

- Model training progress and evaluation results were recorded after each model was trained
- Preprocessing decisions (e.g., handling missing values, class imbalance) were documented as they were made
- Final results and the completed application were pushed to GitHub for team and mentor visibility
